

We have experienced the serious after effects of the devastating Xenophobia attacks. So many dogs were abandoned in various squatter camps, when their owners fled for their lives. These dogs scavenge from the rubbish dumps in order to survive, but most of them are facing starvation or deadly diseases, like billary. We found no less than nine dogs in one of the squatter camps, called Video Centre, and many more in other squatter camps. Most of the dogs have become wild and we had to trap them with our dog trap.

The mommy dog and puppies in the pictures below were some of the lucky ones. She and her puppies, however, were covered in ticks, fleas and lice!

We managed to “tame” the mommy dog and good homes were found for her and all her puppies.
